

Please

Keep praying. Pray for those you love who are in trouble. Pray for those you love who are not in trouble.

Pray for all your family and friends all the time. Pray for all your enemies, including the countries that hate us. Pray we stop doing the things that cause them to do so.

Pray to God that Mary, the patroness of our nation, intercedes on our country's behalf like never before.

Pray for those terrorists with evil intent, both domestic and foreign, that God may turn their hardened hearts of stone to hearts of love. This may seem impossible but with God nothing is impossible.

Pray for our church. Pray that we repent of our horrid mistakes of the past. Pray that we transform into what Jesus wants, to Love Him and to Love everyone else (and this means every single living being created in His Image and Likeness) as we would love Him.

Pray those who have gained massive financial security to reach out and touch as many people as they can in an effort to make those in greater need less vulnerable to disease, starvation, war, and dehumanization.

Pray for those who need God as they suffer from drastic incurable diseases of all types and more importantly, pray for those who support them.

Pray that all members of our government, civil servants they all are, that they put the needs of our nation, our states, our counties, and our townships above any party, and seek to serve those in greatest need regardless of their political opinion.

Pray desperately for the leaders of our county, that they choose wisely and honorably, always putting the needs of the ninety eight percent of us ahead of those who lack of any need and only desire wants.

Pray for our home, our planet, which we were charged with managing and have made such a mess that the planet of our youths is already unrecognizable in so many areas because we continue to poison her, whether it's the stuff we pump into the air, the stuff we pump out of the ground, and the awful and incredible stuff we dump into her ground and her streams.

Never cease praying. Pray all day as you work or think. Pray when you wake. Pray as you fall asleep. It is possible to make the whole day a prayer.

Pray always for those who ask for your prayers. It is hard for people to ask this – so when they do – Pray!

Because prayer is the only truly powerful weapon that exceeds all others. We must unite in our use of it. Regardless of faith, gender, color – every single being created in His image and Likeness must pray – all the time.

Our lives and our children and our children's children lives depend on it.

Oh my, I speak the ultimate truth. Pray. Pray. Pray.
