

Life is complicated.

So do we try to uncomplicate our lives or do we just spread it around like compost just adding to the mounds.

Sweep it up, clean it up, or let our human tendencies seep in like "It's not that bad yet" to take control of our thoughts and actions.

Sweep it up now or shovel it later or maybe rent a front loader. Pushing it out of the way is not an option either. For the problem of pushing, it out of the way, means pushing it on others. If their ways are like our ways, we will build not just walls but mountains between us, that neither of us can remove by ourselves.

So now sweeping it up is out of the question so is the shoveling it and the front loader maybe able to move it but, where are you going to put it all?

It is a mountain; unlike natural mountains it has no beauty and nothing good can grow on it either. We have created this unsightly mountain that is notoriously uninhabitable and is keeping us from life itself and making us into isolationist. Neither of which we were created to be, nor can we exist in such a state very long.

ARE WE DOOMED?

Or do we do what we should have done before we thought we could handle such complications on our own? It is still not too late to ask for help!

For with God nothing is impossible even the walls and mountains we build God can with our permission tear them down and dispense them as far as the east is from the west. Our permission comes in the form of prayer asking God to help us, and God will for God Loves us unconditionally. God has set us free by the Blood of the Lamb Jesus Christ and the sending forth of the Holy Spirit. Yet God knows life is complicated that's one of the reasons God sent His Son to us and the Holy Spirit.

God can remove the walls and mountains and there will be no trace of them at all. Before all the dust settles give God Thanks and Praise. When all the dust settles continue to give God Thanks and Praise. Keep that broom and dustpan handy so things don't get out of control again. More importantly, renew your relationship with God, Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit each morning you open your eyes. Then you will see all the beauty God has created for you and the freedom of unconditional Love, which God wants you to share with all you encounter.

Life is complicated no doubt.

But with and in and through God, Jesus and the Holy Spirit, life is beautiful and livable even with the bumps and thorns!

AMEN!!!
